Subject: Lead wheel weights

Hi Mark,

I was wondering if you have any new development regarding the risk management of lead wheel weights at a National level in the US. As you may remember, I am currently assessing whether Canada will be developing a risk management instrument to prevent the release of lead wheel weights from vehicles on Canadian roads. The last time we spoke you mentioned that the US EPA was contemplating a regulatory instrument to Ban lead wheel weights in the US. I was wondering where you were in the process?

If possible, please give me a call to discuss
